BE ETHICAL

Strive mightily, but maintain the highest ethics in debating your cause. For you can win the argument and lose the person. Winning at any price is too big a price; for then you have lost. Winning is definitely not winning unless it is ethical.

Cutting your opponent's throat doesn't put a halo slightly above yours. Remember --- cut-throats are not much in demand, for no one wishes to be abused. Unquestionably, you haven't triumphed unless you are in demand when you get through.

So, press your cause, prod it, propel it, push it, pull it, but don't forget to be friends to those who stand in the way.

And do as adversaries do in law, Strive mightily, but eat and drink as friends.

William Shakespeare 1564-1616

Debate thy cause with thy neighbor himself. ---Proverbs 28:9

Who Ate the Cookies?

A little boy had just polished off all the cookies in the kitchen. His mother came in, and seeing the empty jar and the crumbs, said to the wee lad, "Son, who ate the cookies?"

The little fellow replied, "An animal did." "What kind of animal?" his mother asked.

The young lad was thoughtful for a moment. Then he smiled, "One of Jesus' little lambs."

"Beloved in the sight of my mother"

Proverbs 4:3
